HOBBIES & INTERESTS

Some activities I enjoy doing in my free time are communicating with people and socializing, I can use this skill to interact with people with ease. Some hobbies I have are interacting with technologic devices, playing basketball and playing video games, with basketball and playing video games I was able to build good communication skills with my teammates and my friends which would help me when I'm talking with people or just helping people with problems. I also enjoying working with children and being around them, I have two younger sisters at home so being with them everyday made me able to interact with children easier. With interacting with technologic devices, I usually enjoy building/create projects, I 3D model for games and I also build, code, and design websites. I'm learning how to code the back-end part of a website and I'm really enjoying it. I believe my skills will be very useful for the future when I'm looking for a job, with good communication, critical thinking, and just being positive can make any work environment so much better.
